

Please see Arqiva's response to the consultation below:

Question 1 : Do you agree with Digital UK's proposal to move the IP delivered services genre to start at LCN 300 and the Interactive services genre to start at LCN 600?

Arqiva response:

Arqiva have no objection to Digital UK's proposal to move the IP delivered services genre to start at LCN 300 and the interactive services genre to start at LCN 600 and believe this will offer consumers a better experience and opportunity to access IP delivered services.

Question 2: Do you agree with Digital UK's proposal to expand the range of LCNs set aside for IP channels by a further 100 LCNs spanning LCN 300 to LCN 599?

Arqiva response:

Arqiva have no objection to Digital UK's proposal to expand the range of LCNs set aside for IP channels by a further 100 LCNs spanning LCN 300 to LCN 599. Arqiva support the argument put forward by YouView that expansion of this range will be necessary to support a genre based programming guide within the LCNs allocated to IP services and this will be required to deliver a good consumer experience for IP delivered services.